Experience Something New!

The Script

Brad Pitt, Julie Roberts, George Clooney? Move aside! It's your turn to take centre stage as Hollywood's biggest stars. Competing teams produce tongue in cheek film trailers. Whether you favour spoof or drama the results are always hilarious. Roll on the Oscars!

Guests are formed into production teams and after a short briefing introduced to their camera technician and production assistant. Your show reel must include at least three scenes and star all of the guests.

Can also take the format where your guests compete to write, direct, film and star in their very own television adverts, inventing strap lines, USP's, gimmicks and slogans.

We supply all the technical expertise and equipment so the guests can concentrate on the scripting and acting!! We have an extensive range of props, costumes, wigs and special effects to enhance the day.
